

Each sort method should keep track of how many comparisons were made

Each sort method should utilise both variants appendReport

Once at the start to write the starting array to the data collection file

Once at the end to write the total comparisons for the sort.

append report should implement writer and append data to a file in a readable format